When first I saw that form en-dearing, Sor-row from me seem'd to de part: Each graceful look, each word so cheering, Charm'd my eye and won my heart. Full of hope, and all de - lighted, None could feel more blest than I; All on earth I then could wish for, Was near her to live and die: But a - las! 'twas i - dle dreaming, And the dream too soon hath flown; Not one ray of hope is gleam - ing; I am lost, yes I am lost, for she is gone.
